

Acuiti Labs is Platinum Sponsor for International Conference on BRIM by SAP and TAC Events

Acuiti Labs is proud to be sponsoring the first in-person International Conference on Billing and Revenue Innovation Management, presented by SAP and TAC Events, which is happening this year in Chicago, 26-27 October 2022.

LONDON (PRWEB) September 12, 2022 -- Companies that adopted subscription models have proven more resilient through the pandemic. In an increasingly digitally connected world, organizations across all industries are adopting the journey to propose personalized offerings and build stronger, longer-lasting relationships with clients.

Why should you attend the upcoming International Conference on BRIM? See the top 5 reasons -

- Benchmark your performance: Assess strengths, uncover areas for improvement, and identify key strategies that generate recurring business value for your organization
- Learn how to handle the new demands of the subscription-based economy by seeing exactly how someone else has tackled the challenge: Hear customer case studies, lessons learned, and strategic advice from leading SAP BRIM solution users
- Network with your ecosystem: Connect and build long-term working relationships with global peers, SAP experts, and partners. And don't forget our fantastic evening reception. Relax after the first day of the conference (October 26) with your colleagues and friends – it's not to be missed!
- See it in action: Seize the unique opportunity to take part in our practical morning workshops which give you the chance to dive deeper into SAP's Billing and Revenue Innovation Management solutions. Designed for all knowledge levels, the workshops will offer an unparalleled opportunity to get instant answers to your burning questions
- Get new ideas: Engage in live demos and discussions, learn about partner innovations and predictions of things to come, and get a fresh perspective and valuable ideas to apply to your business.

The 2022 program will reflect the evolution at play, with industry majors sharing how the SAP BRIM portfolio can elevate customer lifetime value, enable predictable recurring revenue, and drive efficiency in the entire quote-to-cash process.
